To whom it may concern

We are delighted to announce that our book titled "Diagnosis and Treatment of Cancer using Thermal Therapies: Minimal and Non-invasive Techniques," with the ISBN 978-1-032-37936-4 and published by CRC Press Taylor and Francis Group, has been accepted for publication following a thorough peer review process. We diligently incorporated all the suggested revisions made by the editorial team. Furthermore, the editorial adjustments were meticulously reviewed during the copyediting proof stage. From the time we submitted the proposal for evaluation until its eventual publication, the entire publication process spanned approximately 22 months.
